MR. WENDELL PHILLIPS has been again exercising his powers of brilliant vituperation. It would be more to the purpose for him to explain why, after reiterating, over and over again, for two years, that it did not matter what became of Mr. DAVIS, suddenly changed his mind, and found it to be of the highest consequence to dispose of him in a particular way. Mr. JAS. GORDON BENNETT can afford to indulge in eccentricities such as this; which Mr. PHILLIPS cannot, if he aspires to further usefulness as a Reformer.

SOME days ago the newspapers contained a report of a conversation between Judge CARTER and Gen. GRANT, relative to the Presidency. By this report the General was made to declare that if the loyal men who sustained the government through the war, and put down the rebellion, wanted him to be their candidate, he would not refuse. The Cleveland Herald now says:

"Judge Carter, who is now in this city, has been overwhelmed with queries from curious persons, to know how much truth there is in the gossip of the Washington letter to which the above refers, but the Judge, just now, has a slight impediment in his speech, and does not talk much."

LARGE NUMBERS of German, Norwegian and Swiss immigrants, are reported to be arriving daily at New York. They push on at once to the West, and settle near friends and acquaintances who have preceded them, applying themselves mainly to agriculture. They become forthwith customers of American mechanics and manufacturers.

KETCHUM, a New York banker, some months ago committed forgeries to a prodigious amount and was sent to the State prison. THURLOW WEED has not gone up to Albany to bail him out, but he has petitioned the Governor to pardon. We should like to see Mr. WEED reconcile his own conduct with his condemnation of Mr. GREELEY for going bail for Mr. Davis.

THE Hon. J. M. LANGSTON, the colored lawyer from Oberlin, Ohio, is to make a tour through Virginia, speaking on Monday at Orange C. H., Tuesday at Gordonsville, Wednesday at Louisa C. H., on Thursday at Richmond, and on Saturday at Fredericksburg. Several other colored gentlemen from the North are to follow.

THE disunionists of Louisiana are reported to be working diligently to have the fearless soldier and patriot, Gen. Sheridan, removed. The loyal nation will protest against his displacement, and Congress will sustain him in all the acts which have rendered him odious to the unreconstructed.

TO-DAY Francis Joseph will be crowned King of Hungary. In honor of the event the Emperor of Austria has issued a proclamation granting universal amnesty to all political prisoners and to those amenable to the laws for political offenses committed prior to the coronation.

JUDGE KELLEY evidently feels ashamed over the Mobile riot, and places the responsibility on no less a personage than President Johnson. This is tracing effect to a very remote cause, but the Judge must invent a better explanation.

A NICARAGUAN paper thinks that Seward's ruling in his correspondence with England on the Alabama claims should be made work both ways, so as to enable its government to obtain a claim for the ravages of the fillibuster Walker.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON will probably reach Washington to-day. His trip South has neither damaged himself nor the feeble party which clings to him. He has learned the worth of silence, and made practical use of his knowledge.

THE Freemasons have very wisely discountenanced the holding of gift enterprises to pecuniarily aid in accomplishing any project of the order. The outside world will applaud the Grand Lodge for the injunction.

A CORRESPONDENT of a San Francisco newspaper, who has just got back from China, urges that our Government ought to obtain in that country the concession of a trading station, as Great Britain did some time ago.

IT IS NOT the Emperor of the French, but the Czar of Russia, whom the assassin aimed at, day before yesterday, in Paris. This is one of the consequences of the Czar's harsh policy in Poland.

BISHOP BUCKLEY, the unequaled negro minstrel, died at Quincy, Mass., yesterday. He had many warm admirers and friends in musical circles of this city.

IT IS announced that three hundred of Gen. CUSTAR's cavalry, instead of fighting the Indians, have deserted, taking their horses and equipments with them.

IT WILL be regarded as a matter of news that Mr. SEWARD does not aspire to be greater than Washington, as he announced at Richmond yesterday.

MAXIMILIAN is still held a prisoner in Mexico. It is now very improbable that he will be putto death.

GOSSIP OF PARIS.

—Over 14,400 sandwiches are cut and eaten every week in the Paris Exhibition. It is proposed to import some Sandwich Islana inhabitants to do the business.

—A telegraph has been arranged between the Tuileries and St. Cloud, in order that the Emperor and Empress may know at any moment what is the condition of the Prince Imperial.

—The latest announcement of the intended visit to Paris of a crowned head is that of the Shah of Persia, Na po-deddin, son of Mohammed Shah, to whose throne he succeeded in 1848. He is expected in July.

—In the centre of the English exhibition is a very splendid embroidered bed, which is exhibited by Lady Carrington. A scarlet velvet, the embroidery of which, by Lady Carrington, is exquisite. The work is said to have been the labor of five years.

—Some remarkable translations are given in the French bills of fare in Parisian restaurants. Thus Tvabale de riz a Parmesane is rendered "a cup of rice at Parmesane" and Dieux Chanois a l'eau de vie, which are simply a couple of Chinese, are rendered "two Chinese in brandy." Pois de venu a la finan cierre is rendered into "the smile of the clerk to the female capitalist."

—One who seems to know Paris life gives this warning and account of expenses to all those who would marry a Parisian girl of good family:

Toilette for his wife.....	20,000 francs.
Apartments.....	8,000 francs.
Carriage.....	10,000 francs.
Opera and other amusements.....	25,000 francs.
Servants.....	10,000 francs.
Expenses of husband.....	600 francs.
Total.....	73,600 francs.

—The ball of the white dresses was to come off on the 4th of June. The invitation is thus termed: "Le Mardi 4 Juin, Les dames sont priees d'etre en blanc avec des fleurs naturelles. Les homme en culotte courte et en manteau ventien." This will close the series of pretty balls given by the Duchess de Doudeauville on Tuesdays, at the last of which, among the notabilities present were Prince Oscar of Sweden, the Duc de Valtombroso, Lord Houghton, the Russian Ambassadress, Mme. de Gallifet and Mme. de Fourtales.

The Attempt to Assassinate the Czar, Not Napoleon.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Herald's Paris special says: It was the Czar of Russia whose assassination was attempted yesterday. In the Imperial carriage were the Czar, his two sons, and Napoleon Third. When the Royal party was being driven through the Bois de Bologne, a young man, apparently about twenty years of age, fired a pistol at the Czar, in the direction in which he sat in the carriage. It appears that the pistol had been overloaded, for it exploded, wounding the hand of the assassin. It is alleged that a person standing in the crowd threw up the arm of the wretch by a promptly dealt stroke just as he discharged the pistol. He was instantly cut down, severely wounded, and made prisoner by the escort. The Imperial carriage passed on without halting. The supposed murderer is a Pole.

The London special reports that at the races at Ascot, Vauban, dancer of Emperor Napoleon, won the three great or royal prizes.

The Paris special says: The grand military review in the Champ de Mars yesterday was the most brilliant spectacle ever witnessed in France. Over eighty thousand men were under arms.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TOUR.

Commencement Exercises at Chapel Hill University—the President on His Return Trip.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RALEIGH, June 7.—The President and party attended the commencement exercises of the University at Chapel Hill, yesterday. They were escorted from Raleigh by a procession, including the scholars and officers of the institution, and Governor Worth, of North Carolina. Before the end of the carriage number of pupils was five hundred, but at present there are not more than one hundred. A ball given by the graduating class was attended by a portion of the Presidential party.

The President's party left Chapel Hill this morning on their return trip, and were everywhere received with marked hospitality and respect; but the public demonstrations were not as calm and composed as those of the North on reception occasions. The excursion so far has been unmarred by accident. Major General Sickles and staff, and Governor Worth accompanied the party back to Raleigh. The President leaves for Washington on Saturday afternoon.

PETERSBURG, June 7.—The President and party arrived at seven this evening, on their return to Washington, having been escorted thither from Jarrett's Depot by Mayor Collier and a Committee of the City Council. The Mayor received the tender of the hospitalities of the city. The President, while gratified for the kindness, regretted that his public engagements compelled him to decline the desired sojourn, as business required his return to Washington.

A large concourse at the hotel received the party with repeated cheers, and the President having been called for, made a few remarks, in which he said he tried to discharge his duty faithfully. He was very much pleased with the reception and hoped when he again come here it would be under more favorable circumstances; when the country is peace and prosperity. He was heartily cheered.

Secretary Seward, in response to calls, remarked that he had heard that the President what he would say were he to make a speech.

Mr. Randall was required to speak and briefly admonished all to forget the strife of the past and unite for the future in our country's prosperity.

The company remained an hour in Petersburg. They were handsomely entertained with supper and received marked attention. The President remains in Richmond to-night and leave for Washington Saturday morning.

RICHMOND, June 7.—The President and party arrived at ten o'clock this morning, and were met at the depot by the Mayor and a Committee of City Council, and Capt. Milward, of the Spottswood Hotel, by whom they were escorted to that hotel. A band of music performed several patriotic airs at all the stations on the way hither. Many persons, notwithstanding the rain, came out to see the President, and saluted him with cheers. A very large number of persons crowded to the parlors where the President and Secretary Seward were introduced. There was more enthusiasm than when the President arrived in the city last Monday, and the greeting was far more cordial. The President made a short address to the persons assembled in the parlors. He presumed if his policy and that of the administration was not understood, from speeches he had already made, no speech he could now make would render his principle more clear. He returned thanks for the cordial reception extended by the citizens.

Secretary Seward, who was warmly received, said he was pleased with the reception along the trip, and at this city, and thought the South, as well as the North, were coming to understand the mathematical axiom, that the whole is greater than a part. He never favored a war, until forced into it. He never desired peace, without a full restoration of the Union. If Washington could be called from his grave, and the question now in issue be referred to him, he would say, no confiscation, no delay in the restoration of the entire Union. He did not expect to be greater than Washington, and thanked the audience for their kind attention, when the crowd retired.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

The Boiler Explosion on Thursday—The Dead and Missing.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Thirteen dead bodies have been taken from the ruins of Geary & Ward's saw mill, and the search is actively progressing. The following dead have been identified: Harry Mealy, Dietrich Enderess, August Sweigher, Jno Grier, Jacob Heilman, Henry Handock. The following are missing: Three missing and believed to be buried among the ruins: Phillip Seager, August Seager, W. E. Holloway, M. Geary, and S. Reader.

Further particulars of the great explosion show that twenty persons were killed outright, and fourteen severely injured in a manner to die. Several of these will The cause of the accident seems to have been the absence of a sufficient quantity of water in the boiler. The engineer was sick, and his substitute is censured for carelessness.

Navy Yard Workmen Discharged—Visit to National Cemeteries.

PORTRESS MONROE, June 7.—Six hundred and fifty workmen have been discharged from the Gosport Navy Yard, reducing the force to a complies notice unusually small number.

Gen. Schofield visited the National Cemeteries in this vicinity to-day and yesterday, and returned to Richmond this evening.

Severe Hail Storm in Missouri.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Accounts from several interior counties notice unusually violent hail storms last Sunday and Monday nights, which did great damage to the fruit and crops. In some places hail stones as large as hen eggs, covering the ground completely and remaining forty-eight hours.

Reception of Judge Kelley—His Version of the Mobile Riot.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Judge Kelley was received by his political friends in Philadelphia last night, in a speech, in reference to the Mobile affair, saying the riots were not chargable as much to the citizens or the disloyal authorities of that place, as they were to Andrew Johnson, who had appointed to a post of profit there a recreant Northerner, who pursued the distinctively rebellious statements in the public journals days before his arrival. The riots, he said, were premeditated, and were not brought on by any words of his own.

GENERAL NEWS.

—A New York paper says that suicide is becoming alarmingly prevalent in that city. Prentice says, "We fear there are few cities where it could prevail with greater advantage to the world at large."

—Alexander Dumas, the elder, returning from a day's sport at the country seat of a friend, with a perfectly empty game-bag, was asked: "Well, Dumas, what have you killed?" "Time," was the reply.

—Connecticut, though a land supposed to be of steady habits, is rivalling Indiana in the number of her divorces. Already the number of divorces granted was in the proportion of one to every ten marriages.

—Divorces are becoming very common in Massachusetts. The last year's crop is the result of the war." Many women of doubtful reputation married for the sake of the State aid, and led a disreputable life afterward.

—Mayor Smith, of Boston, introduced squirrels into the Boston Common. The animals have driven away the birds, which formerly destroyed the worms, and then girdled many of the trees, which have had to be cut down.

—A young girl has been arrested in Buffalo, in soldiers' clothes. She says her home is in Syracuse; that her parents are poor; have seven girls and one boy; that five of the girls have donned male attire to drive teams for a living.

—The workmen in Russian gun factories are employed day and night in converting muzzle-loaders into breech-loaders. The whole of the Russian army will, it is said, be provided with the latter weapon by the end of June at the latest.

—They have a girl of ten years in a private gymnasium at Roxbury, Mass., who lifts three hundred and seventy pounds, one of thirteen who lifts four hundred pounds, and one of fourteen who lifts four hundred and sixty pounds.

—In Utica they have started a Sunday school on wheels. The children along the line of the Black River Railway, including the cars furnished by the managers. The first Sabbath there were forty-two scholars and the next sixty-seven.

—Great and serious distress is impending in Connemara, a part of Ireland, where the people are more than ordinarily poor and miserable. It is said they are selling their cattle with the provender which they will soon require for their own sustenance.

—The eight-hour strike in the Illinois Central Railroad shops, at Amboy, has proved a complete failure, and the strikers have all, with the exception of the machinists and a portion of the blacksmiths, resumed work under the ten-hour system.

—Some delay occurring during a recent presentation of "The Black Crook" in New York, the stage manager explained by saying that "the ladies of the ballet were not dressed"—whereupon a lively wag in the audience shouted out that "they never are."

—A clergyman who was recently dismissed from a Congregational church in Gilead, Connecticut, states that the trouble originated in his spelling the word "Saviour" without a "v," as the most modern orthography, and similar unimportant matters.

—The dearth of cabs in Paris has given rise to many ludicrous incidents. On a recent rainy sunday fifteen thousand persons, at six o'clock p. m., stood in the rain for two hours waiting for a "cab." Fifty francs was the lowest sum that any cabby who respected himself would take.

—The suppression of the Mobile Republican, for the publication of an article inciting the freedmen to violence, appears to be a proof that the power of the military is impartially used in that city. That is precisely what we want—absolute justice in the South, without regard to color.

—In a Memoir addressed to the Paris Academy of Medicine, M. Daume announces the discovery of a cholera animalcule. The memoir has been referred to a Committee having the subject of the Breant prize to be awarded to the person who discovers a cure for the modern pestilence.

—An old bachelor geologist was boasting that every rock was as familiar to him as the alphabet. A lady who was present declared that she knew of a rock of which he was wholly ignorant. "Name it, madam," cried Cuvier, in a rage. "It is rock the cradle, sir," replied the lady. Celebs vanished.

—Information has been received that Gov. Hahn was refused permission to register in Louisiana, on account of alleged disloyalty. It was alleged that Hahn made the presentation speech when the negroes gave to Beller, which he had been devoted for years; of the negro schoolmasters into breech-loaders. The whole of the Russian army will, it is said, be provided with the latter weapon by the end of June at the latest.

—They have a girl of ten years in a private gymnasium at Roxbury, Mass., who lifts three hundred and seventy pounds, one of thirteen who lifts four hundred pounds, and one of fourteen who lifts four hundred and sixty pounds.

FROM OMAHA.

Grand Banquet to the Senatorial Excursion Party—Eloquent and Patriotic Speeches.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OMAHA, June 7.—Senator Wade and party partook of a grand banquet to-night in the State House, given by the Legislature, City Council and citizens. About three hundred persons were present. After a sumptuous dinner Mayor Brown gave as a toast "our distinguished guests," and called upon Mr. Wade, as Vice President, to respond, and on behalf of the people of Nebraska thanked him for the noble manner in which he had, for over a year, labored so bravely for the interests of Nebraska. After loud applause Mr. Wade responded, speaking at length of the construction of the Pacific Railroad, to which he had been devoted for years; of the negro soldiers into breech-loaders. The whole of the Russian army will, it is said, be provided with the latter weapon by the end of June at the latest.

Senator Trumbull was called on, and in an eloquent speech prophesied a glorious future for Nebraska, when her prairies would become fields of waving grain, while a great highway to the Indies, sought for by Christopher Columbus, has been found to cross your fields and valleys.

Senators Cresswell, Howe, Chandler and Cattell, and Messrs. Yates, Covode, George Francis Train, Dawes, Ingersoll, Washington, Senator Thayer, Judge Lake and Col. Patrick followed in eloquent and patriotic allusions to their native States and the common country. With the great west, being clasped in an iron embrace by mutual labor and enterprise.

Address of Gov. Orr—He Favors Reconstruction—Predominance of Negro Voters.

AUGUSTA, GA., June 7.—Governor Orr addressed the citizens of Anderson District, South Carolina, to-day. After reviewing the various plans presented since the close of the war for the reconstruction of the Union, he earnestly insisted on the acceptance of the plan of reconstruction proposed, as the only means of preventing the further agitation of the affairs of the country passing into the hands of the ignorant and consequently the barbarian and tyrant classes, and the only hope of making this country even tolerable. He showed from the census of 1860 the great preponderance of control over white voters and the utter inability of the whites to defeat the Convention or protect themselves whenever an issue is made with the colored people. There are sixty thousand colored voters in the State and only forty thousand whites. It is true, however, that there are not now as many colored men as in 1860, but it is sure that the proportionate decrease has been greater with the whites than the blacks since the commencement of the war. Governor Orr insisted upon the cultivation of the most cordial relations between the races, and the formation of no alliances but with the great political parties of the nation.

NEW YORK, June 7.—In the second match for $2,000 mile heats to wagon, between Dexter and Lady Thorn, was trotted over the Fashion Course to-day. Dexter won in three straight heats, the two last being splendidly contested and the two fastest ever made to wagons. Time—2 32, 2.24 and 2.28. The fastest time to wagons previously was 2.25, made by Flora Temple and George Wilkes.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met Friday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench. Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney.

CASE RESUMED.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Frank Ray, taken up Thursday afternoon, was resumed. Indictment aggravated assault and battery. Mrs. Mary Crosland prosecutrix. Jacob Whitesell, Esq., for the prosecution, W. C. Moreland, Esq., for the defense. There was a conflict in the evidence, reconcilable on no other ground than reckless testifying. On behalf of the Commonwealth it was shown that Mrs. Crosland was pushed or knocked down by Ray and otherwise abused by him, causing the premature birth of a child several days after, and confinement of Mrs Crosland to bed for two weeks or more. For the defense there was evidence that Mrs. Crosland offered violence to the defendant, and that it was in resisting her that she was thrown down, and as rebutting the presumption that great injury was inflicted, one witness testified that on the day following the occurrence Mrs. Crosland was out or doors performing her regular household duties. The fact was manifest that there existed the very worst kind of feeling between the parties, and it also showed that they had serious difficulties, going to the extent of invoking the aid of the law. It appeared that prior to going to the residence of the defendant, Mrs. Crosland expressed herself as anticipating trouble, having previously been forbidden on the premises. The evidence established the fact that defendant kept a saloon, and was engaged in selling liquor. The jury retired. Mr. Whitesell, for the prosecution, made an earnest appeal to the jury to afford the reparation demanded by the outrageous conduct (as he termed it) of the defendant. The speech was of the style peculiar to Mr. Whitesell, and made a good impression, but not agreed at the hour of adjournment, three o'clock.

THE RAY SIDE OF THE STORY.

The Court were called further concerning the case of Frank Ray, at the next case taken up being that of the Commonwealth vs. Mary Crosland, indictment against Ray for the shooting of the same Frank) prosecutrix. Mrs. Ray was first called, and was followed by her husband, all of whom having been sworn, on application for a ventilation of their version of the row, which was, in brief: Mrs. Crosland came across the lot, and by accosting Mr. and Mrs. Ray, she had a stick "two feet long" in her hand, which she flourished. Words passed, of what sort may be inferred from the nature of the feeling between the parties. Mrs. Crosland made the first attack, directing her violence upon Mr. Ray, striking him in the head and face. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ray say she had a stick "two feet long." Mrs. Ray interfered in behalf of her husband, and came in for blows to the number of five or six, in succession, with the stick "two feet long." The affair wound up (according to the Ray version) in Mrs. Crosland retaining the field, having "laid out" Mr. Ray, whipped his wife and himself in detail. For the defense two witnesses were called, evidently friendly to Mrs. Crosland, and maintaining they were not prejudiced either way. They "swore" Mrs. Crosland did not strike Mrs. Ray a single blow, and that the only violence she offered was the picking up of a stone and shaking it in her (Mrs. Ray's) face, saying she would "slam her mouth" if she did not mind herself. The case was submitted, as it well might be, without argument, and the Court will, in accordance with the law, have heard the evidence, take the case and decide according to your judgment. Should you find a verdict of guilty, the Court will have to impose the costs, the defendant, or the prosecutor, or the county. If you convict, the costs of course will follow the conviction. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the defendant and the prosecutrix each pay one-half the costs.

GONE TO DINNER—TALESMEN.

Another jury was called, (two pleading out,) and to make up the required number six talesmen were obtained, consisting of habitual court attendants, accompanied upstairs, "Hello, Bill, how are you?" and one policeman. All occupied back seats in the box, and attracted some attention from the audience by their air of ease and familiar faces in their front. Col. Duff said there were several cases ready for trial, but he would not put a single attorney in court, and he was not concerned. He presumed those interested, however, had agreed. The Court said they would not wait for "the stomach's sake," and assigned the single member of the bar present to defend the case. Court called. If counsel would disregard the rule of Court, as to the hours of session, and thus neglect their clients, they must bear the responsibility.

A WHISKY CASE.

Hester Wilson, quite an aged lady, (sixty-three years old,) residing in Moon township, was arraigned on two indictments for selling liquor without license. Mary Shields was the prosecutrix. She testified that her motive for prosecuting was to break up the place kept by the defendant, and thus prevent her husband from getting drunk and abusing her when he came home. The evidence established the fact that defendant kept a saloon, and sold liquor. The parties pleaded guilty, and left the prosecutrix to her own devices, and the jury retired. Mr. Whitesell, for the prosecution, made an earnest appeal to the jury to afford the reparation demanded by the outrageous conduct (as he termed it) of the defendant. The speech was of the style peculiar to Mr. Whitesell, and made a good impression, but not agreed at the hour of adjournment, three o'clock.

...ation of Independence things charges that King ... of England obstructed the ...tion laws, thereby retarding ...lation of these States. This ...e count in that memorable bill of ...ment which forced the conclusion ...he was characterized by every fea...e that could define a tyrant. From ...at day to this the United States has ...stly been regarded as an Asylum for ...he Oppressed of All Lands; at least, for those of the fashionable complexion. This has been our boast and glory. Here the oppressed sons and daughters of Europe have found refuge, and they and their descendants have reared a fabric of Political and Religious Freedom which is a marvel and an astonishment to the nations.

White people are here exotics. Indians only are aboriginal and indigenous. With members of white races, consequently, precedence resolves itself into a question of years, less or more. Old comers and new comers, are all the distinctions admissible.

A few years ago some citizens who were native born became jealous of the political influence of foreigners. So far as we remember they did not object to any number of respectable men and women coming here from any quarter of the compass, and making homes or fortunes by honest industry; but they maintained that foreigners ought not to vote until the end of a probation of twenty-one years. Foreigners, and a good many besides, thought this bigoted and proscriptive. The GAZETTE was of this number. After a general and full discussion the intolerant idea was relinquished.

Since then times have changed. The Workingmen's Advocate affirms that mechanics of foreign birth are opposed to allowing more foreigners to come here, and demand a head-tax on immigrants that shall effectually exclude them. We tell these foreigners plainly that if they succeed in giving this movement such momentum as to impose the head-tax, it will not stop there, but will go on and take from all foreigners who may be in the country the right of citizenship.

Because we stand for Liberty and Equal Rights our contemporary denounces us as tinctured with aristocracy, and advises us to get cured thereof by "brushing against mechanics." We have heard that sneer, often enough to detect what sort of men it comes from. Like the Galileans, their speech betrayeth them. There is no other form of egotism and supercilliousness so mean and despicable as that. For the two hundred and forty odd years that our families have been settled in America, they have bred mainly farmers and mechanics. Our fathers were tanners, our grandfathers ship builders. What our ancestors were in Europe, we do not know or care. At fourteen years of age we entered upon apprenticeship, and served seven years, learning our trade more thoroughly than most who follow it in this city. Afterwards, for more than a quarter of a century, we wrought at it, steadily, doing in that time as many solid days' work as any man ever did in the same space, and much literary work besides. Our brothers were all mechanics. our parents rightly thinking that any boy, whatever other outfit he might get, should have a trade. By our choice and procurement, all our sons are mechanics, well instructed in their trades, and are now making a living and something over by mechanical employments. We will wager a dozen pippins, to be paid next fall, that our critic never served a square apprenticeship at any trade, and can get into no Trades' Union unless it be one made up of run-away apprentices, who have combined to brand their betters as rats. Nay, we will bet the pippins he is not a mechanic at all, but a lawyer, who never soiled his fingers with work; who did not succeed well enough in that line, and now seeks to make a living by assuming to be a laborer, and stirring up strife among workingmen.

"Brush against mechanics!" In a different sense, we do every day in the streets of this city till our hearts ache for them. What mean these young mechanics, standing by hundreds along curb-stones, or squatting on stoops, squandering vacant hours enough every five years to give each of them, if well husbanded, an education substantially as good as ordinarily results from a college course? We do not mean to speak unkindly; we know experimentally what it is to start in life with little schooling, and be compelled to work hard for a subsistence; and we have demonstrated how two or three hours a day, saved from sleep or recreation, or from loafing, and diligently put to study, will develop even moderate natural powers, and fit a man for increased usefulness in his day and generation. Young mechanics! cease idling away your time. Give your spare hours earnestly to the companionship of good books. Listen no more to demagogues who seek to play upon your passions and prejudices for their own advantage. Two-thirds and more of the men they would teach you to envy and hate started in life as empty-headed as you did. What those prosperous men have done, you can do, provided the root of the matter is in you. Trust not the counsels of older mechanics who talk to you continually about people in other callings looking down upon you with contempt. All the trouble is in the minds of those men. They are merely ashamed they are mechanics, and attribute to other people the sentiments they would cherish if they were in what they foolishly esteem genteeler pursuits. These gabbiers would quit their trades any day for an appointment on the police or as tide-waiters, or what not, and at half the wages they can make by plying their vocation. We have seen hundreds upon hundreds of them thus make shipwreck of themselves and their families.

The great majority of mechanics are not of this breed. They respect themselves, and are respected. They are self-reliant, pushing, energetic. They acquire competencies; many of them fortunes; and their sons and daughters are established in their sight.

We know the present is a tight time. Men in all departments of business find unusual difficulties to overcome. Mechanics are pinched with the rest, and perhaps more than others. But the way out does not run through proscriptions or injuries to any. This whole continent must be subdued; its soil reduced to cultivation; its mines everywhere opened and worked; its industries diversified; and all its resources developed to a degree unprecedented elsewhere. From this land is yet to go out the Gospel of Universal Brotherhood, that shall conquer all tribes and nations that dwell on the face of the whole earth. The Forerunner of this Gospel is not Intolerance. It will not draw a cordon of police around the continent to drive back those who have escaped from tyranny and oppression elsewhere. It is monstrous to think that Irishmen flying from the fangs of the British lion; Hungarians and Poles trying to find a shelter from the wrath of the Czar; Germans, escaping from under the heel of despotism, and hoping for new life and liberty here; should be driven back into the hands they dread. No! the United States will not thus become baser and more proscriptive than the monarchies of the Old World. Our lot and sympathies are with the men who labor. We are for the Protection of Labor and Laborers by such Legislation as our judgments approve as just and reasonable. But we can't be humbugged; and won't help humbug others.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Gradually the secular press is becoming what was once declared it should be, "more religious" in its character, and that the religious press ought to be more secular in its composition. This is true of the former at least. The more respectable dailies in this country are now giving marked attention to the religious and moral movements of the day, and are surrendering a large amount of space in order to give full details of religious bodies, and movements for the advancement of such interests. This paper has always, at least for many years, gave prominence to religious news, as far as was possible, and never in its past history has there been more attention paid to such matters, than during the past year. We propose in addition to the full accounts of the proceedings of religious bodies that may be reported hereafter, to furnish, weekly, a column of religious current news, embracing items, in regard to all denominations, impartial, and without any disposition to provoke controversy or ill feelings. While the matter will be general; and principally relating to events in this country, yet, special attention will also be given to news of a local character.

It was very clearly demonstrated a the recent annual meeting of the Episcopal Diocese of Pittsburgh, at Erie, Pa., that there was great wisdom in the formation of the Western part of the State into a separate Diocese. Doubtless many now think the step ought to have been taken many years ago, as the successes of the past year are so self-evident, and owing to a great extent to the organized condition of all the forces of the Church. Every department seems to be quickened with the touch of its power. Mere lookers-on can trace these results in the outward workings in the Diocese. Another fact has been brought out in unmistakable lines, that the distinguished minister at the head of affairs, Bishop Kerfoot, is showing himself worthy of the high duties of the Episcopate. The effect of his systematic labors, and attention to all the various interests of the Diocese, is developing resources heretofore latent, and opening up fields of usefulness never before attained. This prelate shows by his movements that he is eminently practical and not a mere theorist.

The annual meeting of the English Congregational Union Society has just been held in London. The doings of that body were marked with a spirit of liberality. Among the resolutions adopted was one to admit "Union" churches—that is, churches made up of Baptists and Pedo-Baptists united—to equal membership in the Union, which was carried by a large majority.

This week's Independent rebukes in severe terms the attempt made last week to pervert the old and original American Tract Society at Boston from its broad and catholic basis, to sectarian purposes, by merging it into an unauthorized association called the Congregational Board of Publication. The proposition excited a sharp debate, and the matter was placed in a position where it will not be likely to do any farther mischief.

The case of Rev. W. C. McCune, before the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, at Xenia, Ohio, is attracting a good deal of attention outside of that denomination. The ground of complaint is that he is "charged with the sin and scandal of holding and defending fundamental and serious error on the subject of Church fellowship." That is, he opposes close communion in the Church, and maintains that the Christian union of Protestantism can only be advanced as this barrier is removed. These views were advanced in a book on "Close Communion," and also in his pulpit ministrations. His Christian character otherwise is above reproach. The charges were sustained by a large vote, but the final action must be taken, so far as sentence is concerned, by the Presbytery of which he is a member. It is not likely that he will be expelled from the ministry and membership of the Church, but simply reproved. The agitation on "Close Communion" will go on, notwithstanding the efforts of the Church authorities to squelch it. The Presbyter uses these startling words in commenting upon the action of this body: "Revolutions never go backward. One year hence the minority may become the majority, especially if Mr. McCune and his sympathizers are prudent and wise. The spirit of union which is abroad in the land will work as leaven in the United Presbyterian Church more and more, until the whole lump is leavened, or until the leavened and unleavened of the lump are separated." The United Presbyterian of this week has an article on "Church Fellowship," by Rev. Dr. John Pressly, bearing on the "Close Communion" question.

Presiding Elder Gee, of the Nashville district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in a letter, refers in graphic words to the course of white-washed rebels in that community who had sworn before the passage of the franchise law that they would not live anywhere where the "niggah" was recognized as a man and allowed to vote. As soon as it passed, however, the "niggah" rose with them from old "Joe," "Jim," and "Jack," to Mr. Jones, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Jackson.

The Richmond (Methodist) Christian Advocate has a very pious correspondent in New York, who has a wonderful talent for manipulating the news in that city to suit the nerves of the readers of that paper. In the last letter we learn he ascertained while that immaculate person, Jeff. Davis, was in New York, that before he went from his hotel in Richmond, to the Court, he first committed his cause to God in private prayer, and left his family full of Christian peace and resignation, whatever might be the result.

A writer in the American Christian Review argues that the Scriptures do not command unconverted persons to either pray, or be prayed for, in order to obtain the pardon of their sins.

TILTON having announced that the New York Independent had abandoned its religious character, or rather evangelical type it used to represent in its way, quite an outburst of joy has been manifested among men whose attitude is quite doubtful towards true Christianity. Quite a company of Michiganders express their gratitude that TILTON, the editor, is "checking the tide of infidel orthodoxy." They hope to die ere their "souls shrivel to the worship of a creed less liberal than those foreshadowed in the 'Soliloquy.'" The Soliloquy announces "death to creeds."

The anniversaries of the various Baptist societies were held in Chicago last week. It is estimated three to five thousand delegates and visitors were in attendance, taxing the religious families to their utmost to accommodate them. We learn from the report of the Home Missionary Society that the receipts for the year reached $176,899, being $39,000 larger than the previous year, and full $70,000 more than in 1864. The largest sum came from the Deacon Cutter, of Brattleboro. Fifty ordained ministers, or about one-sixth of the whole number employed by the Society, have been commissioned to labor exclusively among the colored people. Thirty of the number are colored preachers. Ninety-seven colored Baptist churches have been aided. Since the organization of the Society, thirty-five years ago, 1,528 churches have been organized by its missionaries, and 44,000 persons have been baptised.

—Edmund About has written a "The Man with the Broken Ear," as a pedant, to "The Nose of a Notary," and the former book has been Englished.

—Sante Beuve got much Parisian popularity by defending Renan and Renan's books in the French Senate, from the attacks of Marshal Canrobert and others.

—A child has been born to Dumas pere, and he has called her Jeannina. Jeannina is the name of the reclaimed fallen woman who is the heroine of his "Ideas of Madame Aubray."

—Buckle's History of Civilization has been published in St. Petersburg and bound in Russia, with the omission, probably, of the historian's references to the Muscovites as "filthy barbarians."

—Neal Dow is a century plant. Behold his efflorescence. An Englishman asked of Neal "When will you pay the Confederate bonds?" To him straightway Neal made answer, "When you pay the Fenian bonds," and then his petals closed.

—The people of Haytiare hailing Salnere as the colored Garibaldi. The Senate has offened him the Presidency, but he refuses to take that place from any power less than the people, who will probably elect him. He is everywhere received with acclamation, and shows commendable moderation.

—Mr. Daniel J. Kirwan, of the Tribune, on Monday pulled a sixteen-foot boat, with a pair of eight-foot sculls, from the battery to the first landing at Staten Island and back, in one hour and forty minutes. Mr. Kirwan challenges the local editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle to a match of five miles, with a sixteen-foot boat and twelve-foot spruce oars, for $500.

—Bennett of the N. Y. Herald has long had his laugh over the folly of editors who seek notoriety in public life. He was in favor of Greeley for United States Senator last winter, saying, "I want him to go to the Senate because he will make a bigger d——d fool of himself there than any where else." And he added with great pleasantry, "Look at poor Raymond."

—Theodore, Emperor of Abyssinia, has been in high dudgeon with the Queen of England ever since she refused his hand in marriage, after the death of Prince Albert, and has been trying to bring her to terms by holding in prison the British Consul and several other Englishmen who were residing in his dominions. The English people and Government are puzzled what to do about it. Abyssinia is too far off and hard to get at, to make war against, with any hope of coercing the enraged Emperor.

—Baron Frisse, successor of Soyer, and Parisian prototype of Blot, has encountered grief. It is charged that Brisse, who discusses gastronomy in La Liberte, black-mailed vintners for certain wines for his private suppers, alleging in his note of application that the "priest must live by the offerings on the altar." The note fell into the hands of Brisse's employers, the owners of La Liberte, who thereupon dismissed him. Brisse alleges that the note is a forgery; La Librete doubts the allegation. Meantime Paris knows not how to dine.

—An Irish priest wishing to explain the nature of a miracle to a skeptical parishoner, gave the wretch a tremendous kick. "Did it hurt ye?" asked the reverend father. "Hurt?" exclaimed the victim, tenderly solacing the aggrieved region with his hand. "Well then," said the clergyman complacently, "it would have been a miracle if it hadn't hurt ye!" This is a good definition, but no better than one just given in Massachusetts of the difference between an "accident" and a "misfortune." "If Wendell Phillips should fall into the river," says the definition, "it would be an accident. If he should ever get out again that would be a misfortune."

REMEMBER

That Sickness at the Stomach, Pain between the Shoulders and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver Complaint, are, one and all, promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of that famous preparation,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

Which is at once the best of correctives, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver Disease or Bilious Remittent Fever. No words can do justice to its

MARVELOUS PROPERTIES.

It stands pre-eminent among the health restoring preparations of the age, and every year adds to its fame, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Sweet, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called PULMONIC WINE OF HOREHOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, exabling them to regain their ost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years' standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of ASA GOODWIN, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in old pulmonic affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all urinary affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

AUCTION SALES.

GRAND AUCTION SALE OF 71 VALUABLE BUILDING LOTS, at Verner Station, between Woods' and Jack's run, on the line of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, on the premises, at 10½ o'clock, MONDAY MORNING, June 10th, 1867. The Lots are 24 by 90 feet, fronting on wide streets, and broad alleys in rear. Abundance of choice small fruits, with ornamental and fruit trees, in high cultivation on the property. The lots are pleasantly located between the Ohio River and Fort Wayne Railway, immediately at Verner Station, and within twelve minutes ride of Allegheny Station.

Their situation is all that could be desired. The extensive Works of the Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Company, with numerous surrounding improvements, are already there. Not for years has been so desirable an opportunity for investment as we now offer. Pleasant, healthy and convenient location, and terms easy. All desiring a home or to-town should embrace this rare chance.

A Free Excursion Train will leave the Allegheny Depot at 10 o'clock a. m., returning after sale.

TERMS.—One-third cash, balance in one and two years, with interest. Ten dollars on the cash payment to be made at time of sale.

A. McILWAINE, Auctioneer.

Allegheny County Prison Society.

This Society has been pursuing its benevolent and useful career for some time past. The members of the Acting Committee have made frequent visits to the county jail. Under their auspices divine service has been held regularly, tracts and religious papers distributed among the prisoners, a library of suitable reading procured for their use, and in a number of instances the families of prisoners have been visited and relieved, and their neglected children gathered into Sabbath Schools.

By a recent act of the State Legislature the members of the Acting Committee of this Society have been made official visitors to the several prisons located in this county, consequently the field of their operat ons has been greatly enlarged. And an appeal is now made to a benevolent public for funds to enable them to prosecute more successfully the important work to which they are devoting their efforts.

The object of the Society is not to interfere in any way with the administration of public justice, nor in the least degree shield the guilty from suffering the penalties incurred by their crimes. Believing, however, that in the punishment of crime we should seek as far as possible the reformation of the prisoner, the Society aims not only at the amelioration of the sufferings in public prisons, but also to lead the prisoner back to the paths of virtue and integrity. It endeavors to show him by a judicious manifestation of interest in his temporal and spiritual welfare, that he is not in an utterly hopeless condition or entirely abandoned of or his fellow men; that if he is disposed to forsake his evil ways, there are those who will lend to him a helping hand. In the prosecution of these ends, not only have moral and religious influences been employed, but the prisoner on his discharge has been assisted in obtaining employment by which he might secure an honest living and thereby become a useful member of Society. It is believed that it is only necessary that the existence and operations of this society be made known to our citizens in order to secure from them the pecuniary aid necessary to prosecute this important work. Any person contributing to the funds of the Society becomes, in virtue of said contribution, a member thereof. Donations of money, religious papers, tracts and books for the prison library are respectfully solicited. Donations in money may be made to any of the Acting Committee of the Society. Books, tracts or papers may be sent to the Treasurer, Jas. D. Carlisle, No 19 Fifth street.

The following persons are the officers and members of the Acting Committee: President, Joseph McKnight; Vice Presidents, Robert Orr, Major Wm. Frew. Treasurer, James D. Carlisle; Secretary, R. C. Miller; Counsellor, Capt. C. T. Ewing. Acting Committee, Dr. Wray, Rev. Jno. G. Brown, D.D., Rev. A. E. Bell, Dr. H. T. Coffey, Capt. B. L. Wood, O. O. Phillips, Joseph Horne, Frank Van Gorder, Dr. James Kings, Dr. M. Jones, W. O. Hugart, H. J. Lynch, James R. Reed, Barclay Preston, Samuel Clark, Jos. Albree, Rev. A. Clark, R. Davis, Rev. Mr. Weekly, A. H. Lane, G. A. Kirkpatrick, E. R. McGregor, Rev. S. J. Wilson, D.D., Jno. W. Horner, Mrs. F. R. Brunot and Miss Roberts, J. H. Page.

Forcibly Ejected.

Harriet Campbell appeared before Alderman McMasters, and made information against James Bruce, charging him with assault and battery. The prosecutrix is a resident of Moon township, and yesterday morning came to the Diamond market and took a stand, which, it appears, had been occupied by Bruce the day before. Bruce came in and found his stand occupied by Mrs. Campbell, and thinking he had a prior claim to it, ordered her to vacate, which she refused to do, when he gathered up her marketing and threw it into the street, and then kicked her out after it. Mrs. Campbell, being a peaceable and law-abiding woman, did not admire this mode of proceeding, and sought redress before Alderman McMasters, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Bruce.

Affectionate Husband.

Lewis Wenner, residing at No. 76 Etna street, was on a "bender" on Thursday night last, and coming home, in the "wee sma hours," slightly disturbed the peaceful slumbers of his better half, Paulina Wenner, who undertook to admonish Lewis for his wickedness, in thus absenting himself from "the wife of his bosom," and thus appearing before her in such a condition. Lewis not believing in "Woman's Rights," ordered her to keep quiet, which Paulina very naturally refused to do, when a fight ensued, in which the "better half" came out "second best." Paulina made information before Alderman Taylor against her husband, charging him with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, June 7, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 112; Five Twenties, 1862, 106½; Five Twenties, 1864, 105¾; Five Twenties, 1865, 106⅝; 1865 Consols, 108⅛; Seven Thirties, 1st, 106@105⅝; Ten Forties, 99¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 93½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 78½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 93¾; Erie, 60¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 89; Chicago and Northwestern, 34¾; do preferred, 68¾; New York Central, 160; Reading, 103¼; Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 25¼.

Large amounts of money are being disbursed by the Treasury in payment of Seven Thirty bonds bought by the Government and for the redemption of the June compound interest notes, the effects of which are very sensibly felt in Wall street. Bonds and stocks are very buoyant, and a very "bullish" feeling prevails. If cheap money is the only requirement for a rise in the market it is certainly to come now, as the disbursements by the Treasury will amount to nearly 50 millions for the next four weeks. Government securities are firm, but not any higher than last evening, with an active demand for 1864 Five Twenties and Consols.

Gold is firmer, even after an improvement of ¼ per cent. of United States bonds in London. The reason for this may be assigned to an unwillingness to draw below shipping rates by the leading houses, they not having any use for gold at present. In the open market money remains very scarce, and we know of very high rates of interest being offered by parties in good standing who cannot be accommodated at their banks.

Closing quotations received by James T. Brady:

—The rumors prejudicial to the credit of this Bank which have been circulated to some extent in the newspapers, it appears are wholly without warrant. The Cashier, E. D. Jones, Esq., formerly of this city, the integrity of whose statements no one here will question, telegraphs that the statement referred to is "a base, malicious falsehood—no truth in any part of it." Several of the banks of this city keep accounts with the Second National Bank of St. Louis, having unsecured confidence both in the integrity of its officers and the impregnable stability of the bank.

—A Chicago journal says that the losses on grain during the past few months have been unusually heavy, and the trade has become so hazardous that bankers are unwilling to make advances even on fair margins unless the borrowers are known to be responsible beyond doubt. Notes falling due are generally promptly met, and the applications for extensions are by no means numerous. The advices relating to winter wheat and all other small grain spring crops are very encouraging.

—It has been reported that the Fourth National Bank of New York was a loser to the extent of more than a quarter of a million of dollars by the failure of the Citizens' National Bank of New Orleans. The whole amount of the debt in question does not exceed $40,000, for which the Fourth National holds ample security.

—We understand, says the New York Journal of Commerce, that orders have been received from Washington to suspend all negotiation and sales of the five-twenty per cent. bonds of 1865, on government account until further notice. This is probably in anticipation of the issue of the new 5-20s to which the holders of the 7-30s notes are entitled on the majority of these obligations. The market generally continues languid, values of most descriptions of produce are nominal, and the prices of many classes have a downward tendency. The dry goods trade is inactive. At present there is little effort on the part of holders to press sales of staple styles of either cotton or wool fabrics, and the limited demand is supplied at rates which show no important change during the last few days. There is an increased demand for money, and call loans are readily placed upon the best securities at 6@7 per cent. The range of discount for first-class commercial paper at short date is 7@8 per cent. per annum.

—The New York Post says money is working close in consequence partly of the taking up of currency in the Treasury. Mr. McCulloch, it is reported, has, with a view to ease the money market, issued orders to stop the sales of gold and bonds, and to payout as much currency as possible in the purchase of seven-thirties and compounds.

The same paper also says it is reported that Mr McCulloch has been making secret arrangements with some of the National banks for the issue of more National bank notes. It is well known that the limit to circulation of National bank notes under the National Banking Act is three hundred millions of dollars, and that this limit was long since reached. There are still National banks without any circulation, and many others with much less than they wish. Now the report is that the department has privately informed some of the banks in an informal way that to the extent that they will redeem the bills of broken banks new notes may be had by the banks desiring circulation. This report has created quite a sensation among the banks interested, and a premium as high as 4 or 5 per cent. has been offered for the broken bank notes.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, June 7, 1867.

The market for metal has been dull during the week which has just closed, the reported sales in the aggregate being comparatively light, while prices have undergone little or no change, though the tendency, if anything, is downward, and holders generally seem disposed to make slight concessions in order to effect sales. Mill buyers are buying sparingly, and the same is true of foundry buyers, both seeming disposed to do what is commonly termed, a "hand-to-mouth" business. Stocks of desirable brands of metal of all kinds are pretty well reduced, while common and inferior grades are very abundant and hard to sell at any price. Blooms are dull and drooping. No. 1 Juniata, it is reported, were sold during the week at $97 per ton, cash, and $100, four and five months.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, June 7, 1867.

The general markets continue exceedingly dull and unsettled, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. As the demand for nearly all of the leading commodities is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, there are but few round lot operations to report, and prices generally are still tending downward.

GRAIN—There is nothing doing in Wheat. Corn is in good supply and very dull—we heard of a car load shelled having been sold at 91c. Oats dull and weak but without quotable change. Sale of 300 bush at 69—small sales at 72@73c. Sale of 1 car Spring Barley at $1.12, and 1 do do, to arrive, at $1.10. Rye cannot be quoted correctly, as there are no established prices.

FLOUR—Continues dull and weak with a drooping tendency. We quote nominally at $12@13 for Spring Wheat, and $14@14.50 for Winter Wheat. Rye Flour is quoted at $9.25@9.50 for choice brands in store.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is selling in a jobbing way at 9¼ for Shoulders; 11½ for Ribbed, and 12½ for Clear Sides; and 15¾ to 16 for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 13 for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef 23 plain, and 24c for canvassed. Mess pork, $22.50@23.

POTATOES—The market is quiet and unchanged. Sale of 50 bushs Chili's at $1.05 per bush. Peach Blows may be quoted at $1.35 @1.40.

HAY—Wagon Hay is selling at from $20@27 per ton, according to quality. Baled may be quoted at $23@26.

EGGS—Quiet and unchanged—fresh packed may be quoted at 17@18c.

BUTTER—Is excessively dull, the warm weather having cut down the demand considerably. We now quote at 12@16, for good to prime.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and neglected, with a drooping tendency. Small sales at 7½@8½c for Apples, and 10@11c for Peaches.

OIL—Lard Oil is quoted by city manufacturers at 80@85c for No. 2, and $1.00@1.07 for No. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, June 7, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was unusually active to-day, the reported sales reaching in the aggregate 15,000 bbls, and spot oil, as will be seen below, is a fraction lower, while for future deliveries, prices remain unchanged. Sale of 1000 bbls on spot, at 45½; 1000, to arrive, at 45½; 2000 for August, at 74½; 2000 for August, seller's option, at 74½; 3000 for September, seller's option, at 84½; 1000 for all 1867, buyers option, at 9; and 5000 for all 1867, at 8¾. The above is the largest list of sales we have had to record for some time, but the movement is altogether speculative, and the purchases were made in anticipation of a better market in the future.

REFINED—The operations in bonded oil to-day were also unusually large, reaching between fourteen and fifteen thousand barrels, but prices, notwithstanding, are no better, and the sales were mainly, if not altogether, all on speculation. Sale of 1000 barrels standard white for October, at 28c; 3000 bbls, running from July to December, 500 each month, at 26½c; 1000, running from July to September, 500 each month, at 26¾c; 1000 for July at 24½c, 500 each for November and December, at 28c; 500 each for June and July at 24½c; 1000 prime light straw to white, for June, at 22¾c; 1000 standard white, July 1st to July 10th, at 23½c; 4000 to be delivered within thirty days, seller's option, at 25½c.

LUBRICATING OIL—We have a sale of 500 bbls Western Virginia Lubricating Oil (28 gravity) to be delivered within twenty days, at 27½c.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:
